

Big Island of Hawaii Region Sports Car Club of America Presents their First Road Rally

Hello Rallyists!

The date for the first rally of the Big Island of Hawaii Region of the SCCA is coming up!
Mark your calendars: Sunday, March 14, 2010!

This inaugural event will have elements of TSD (Time/Speed/Distance), and also GTA (Game Tour Adventure), and will provide a pleasant county route for drivers and navigators to enjoy. I ran the route last week with my wife, and she really enjoyed it!

This event won't be too technical, it will take about two hours and be less than 80 miles total distance. The first car will leave the start gate (the Shops at Mauna Lani) at 10:30 am, so you'll need to be there before 10:AM to read over the general instructions, synchronize your time piece, and be ready to go at 10:30.

Note: a stopwatch isn't necessary, however, the rally was set up using a West Bend digital clock / timer, capable of counting up to 12 hours, which worked pretty well.

A good time piece, a calculator, pen/pencils will be good things to have with you. At this time the projected entry fee will be $20 for each car (driver and navigator team), to cover sanction, insurance, and our modest awards.

To make sure we are all prepared to have a good time, please give me a confirmation that you will be running or not. I know it has been a longer wait to give this a go than many of you would have liked, but we've had some hoops to jump through just to get to this point. I hope it will all have been worth it, and we can establish some rallying here on the Big Island.

Please let me know if you will be entering the event, and pass the word to any of your friends who might enjoy participating, and let's get them on the email list. More info will be forthcoming, but The Big Island of Hawaii Region will hold it's first rally this March 14!

Thanks,
